久隆模范中学的AT&T 班

在前上海市市长徐匡迪的倡议下,2001年,久隆模范中学在上海最贫穷的地区之一闸北区成立,并由上海市教委领导。久隆模范中学是专为德才兼备的贫困学生建立的,为学生免费提供6年的中学教育。该校由上海市教委和闸北区政府共同投资,并接受社会捐赠。

2002年,AT&T为一个拥有40名学生的班级提供赞助,并将其命名为“AT&T班”。公司将赞助AT&T班学生6年的费用直至他们完成中学学业。

此外,公司还每年组织一次学生聚会,向他们介绍新的技术同时促进学生们与AT&T指导老师以及榜样的联系。AT&T上海办事处和上海信天通信(AT&T在浦东的合资企业)的员工志愿者和一些学生建立了一对一的指导关系。

该项目将持续至 2008年 5月。

Jiulong Model High School's AT&T Class

Jiulong Model High School in Zhabei District, one of the poorest districts in Shanghai, was built in 2001 at former Mayor Mr. Xu Quangdi's initiative and is governed by the Shanghai Education Commission. It is a school specially designated for underprivileged students who are outstanding both academically and morally. Co-founded by Shanghai Education Commission and Zhabei District Government as well as social donations, the school provides six years of secondary education free of charge to its students.

In 2002, AT&T provided a grant to support the first class of 40 students, now called the “AT&T class.” AT&T will support the class for six years through their completion of secondary school.

Additionally, an annual get together for these students is arranged to expose them to new technologies and foster links with business mentors and positive role models. Staff from both the AT&T Shanghai office and the SST (AT&T's joint venture in Pudong) office have volunteered to set up one-on-one mentor relationships with some of the students.

This project continues until May 2008.
